

IN THE FIELD OF LOCAL POLITICS.

The Outlook for Legislative and Supervisorial Nominations on the Republican Ticket.

Who's who in politics is beginning to engage the attention of those who take an interest in politics. Several names are mentioned in connection with the Republican election nominations from the Fifteenth district. William D. Biles is running, and he has positively declined on account of the pressure of professional engagements. Among those named for the honor are Guy C. Earl and James A. Johnson of this county, Judge W. S. Wells of Contra Costa and W. L. Crooke, the Berkeley man.

No candidate has appeared against J. Russ Lukens in the Fifteenth Senatorial District, and from present appearances, and J. J. Burke, a young lawyer associated with Snook and Church.

John A. Biles is slated for a fourth term in the Fifteenth district. In the Fifteenth, the old Seventh Ward district, W. E. Espey is opposed by ex-Assaultman C. C. Cline.

William H. Waste of Berkeley has a clear field for recontestation in the Fifty second.

From present indications, there will be a fight for the Republican nomination in but one of the Supervisors' districts. In the Fifteenth district, the incumbent, George E. Randolph, is opposed by

There will be a fight between City Attorney of Alameda county and Ex-Senator F. K. Taylor in the Second district. He will be renominated.

Nobody has yet mustered up courage enough to contest with Supervisor H.

For the nomination. In the Forty-seventh, Alameda, a fight is on between J. Clem Bates, who at present represents the district, and Justice of the Peace R. B. Tappan, who says he is the best man on account of Er. R. L. McDuffie. It is a case of criminal grudge and county politics getting mixed up with a legislative nomination.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

How He Was Animated in His Work of Restoring Law and Order in Troubled State.

DENVER, Colorado, July 30.—Governor Peabody today issued an address explaining and vindicating his acts in dealing with labor troubles in Colorado.

He refused the contention that the strike inaugurated by the Western Federation of Miners at the Creighton mine in Colorado was called because of the failure of the Legislature to enact an eight-hour law pointing out that it was called on the 14th of February, some five or six weeks before the adjournment of the Legislature which then had under consideration an eight-hour law. Later a sympathetic strike was declared by the Federation in Creighton to cut off the ore supply of the mills.

GOVERNORS DEFENSE

Governor Peabody then goes into the history of the Western Federation of Miners which he declares is a benevolent organization with a democratic and republican character, and in no way connected with the labor movement.

It became necessary, in his judgment, to confine certain men in military guard-houses as the safety and most expeditious method of dealing with the situation.

The general policy pursued in Creighton was to restore law and order.

HOLE IN BRAIN BUT LIVES.

JOHN PRIESTLY SCATTERS GRAY MATTER, ON CEILING AND AFTERWARDS TALKS.

After arranging himself before a mirror comfortably, John Priestly, a character of Fitchburg, yesterday morning placed a pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger. The bullet tore through the would-be suicide's mouth into the brain, and through the top of the skull. Particles of brain matter were scattered on the ceiling. Despite the nature of the wound the man retained his consciousness and has a fair chance to recover, according to Dr. J. E. Cullen and Dr. Lynch who attended him.

Priestly had been despondent for several days and had been drinking heavily of alcohol. Without warning any of the members of his family of his intention to blow his brains out, Priestly went into the bath room and fired a bullet just the height of his head. He then shot himself. The bullet did not have force enough to hit the ceiling after emerging from his skull, but dropped back into the bath tub.

The family of Priestly heard the report and rushed to the scene. They found the wounded man out of the tub. "Do you recognize me?" asked the Constable.

"Certainly, I do, Kramer," said Priestly.

Drs. Cullen and Lynch were then called and dressed the wounds of Priestly without the patient losing consciousness. Priestly is 60 years of age. He has a wife and five grown children.

BOY HURT BY BEAR.

TRENTON, N. J., August 1.—Several hundred persons saw a brown bear attempting to eat seven-year-old Robert Mayer at the bear pit in Cadwallader Park yesterday. The little fellow had ventured near the cage of the animal and was caught and held by the bear, putting its claws through the boy's cage. The animal tore off the shoe of his right foot and had sunk his teeth in the boy's leg before the chief of the park guards rescued the lad. The chief used his club on the animal and broke its hold on the boy. The little fellow was hurried to the hospital, where his injuries were found to be so serious that he will be lame all probably for life.

NEW YORK, August 1.—A remarkable article appears in the Novoe Vremya from the pen of the well known writer, M. Menchikov, the substance of which is that Russia has been utilized by President Roosevelt for the purpose of his imperialistic ambitions, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald.

Russia, the article says, has been pictured to the American people as a menace to them, thereby emphasizing the necessity of having a belligerent President.

Clearance Sale of New and Used Pianos

DURING THE NEXT FEW DAYS WE OFFER SAVINGS OF NEARLY ONE-HALF

There has been an almost unprecedented dullness in this summer's trade in every line. Pianos form no exception, and we have at last been forced to close out on short notice at least half a dozen cars of pianos from our stock here, and in San Francisco. In addition to instruments mentioned below, are nearly three carloads of pianos just received which have been shipped on our orders of months ago, when we anticipated a more brisk summer trade. This big lot of pianos coming in now, when our stock is full to overflowing, leaves us no alternative—we have simply got to close them out. We are offering brand new pianos at prices lower than many dealers ask for second-hand instruments, and we are offering used pianos at but little more than half their real value.

There apparently will be no turn in the tide of battle between Mrs. Thomas Mein, the rich society leader whose home was robbed of more than $1000 worth of jewelry, and Chief of Police Hodgkins, who is accused of neglect of duty, until Mayor Oney returns from Lake Tahoe.

The difference of opinion existing between Chief Hodgkins and Mrs. Mein, as exploited by the daily press, that Mrs. Mein says she was robbed and that the police declined to assist her. The chief says he "could only be so happy to assist Mrs. Mein if she will swear to a complaint charging Miss Grace McNaughton, the suspected domestic, with the crime.

Added to the case is the statement Miss McNaughton is alleged to have made to Mrs. Marie Lur en, 1085 Fifty-eighth street, that she had "the Chief of Police under her thumb, and was not afraid of getting into trouble."

Mrs. Garsen, who first apprised Mrs. Mein of the fact that articles were being stolen from her, gives the following version of the affair:

"When my husband, Martin Larsen, went to Alaska for the summer he wished me to get a nice girl or woman to room in the house with me. I secured the services of Grace McNaughton. I took care of her during an illness, and to show her gratitude she made me a number of presents, among them being some napkins. Their superlative quality and the embroidered initials, 'M. M.' first aroused my suspicions. I asked her how she came by them, and she replied that napkins collecting was a fad with her dead sister, Maud Myers. I do not believe, now, that she ever had such a sister.

"Soon I found that Grace was not the kind of girl I wanted in the house, and I told her she must go. Then I began to wonder if these napkins didn't belong to Mrs. Lur en. I telephoned to the latter and she told me that they had been stolen from her and were worth $40 a dozen. Of course, I returned them at once, and everything that Grace had given me or that she had left in the house.

PULL WITH THE CHIEF.

"When I saw Mrs. Mein, a few days later, she told me that she was trying to have Grace arrested, but thought the chief would not take any action. I recollected that Grace had told me she could twist Chief Hodgkins around her fingers. What she said was: 'I am an old friend of the chief. He has known me ever since I was in short dresses. He told me if ever got in trouble to come to him and it would be all right. Oh, I can do anything with him.'

"Among the presents Grace gave me was a pin-cushion, which was made of lace for which Mrs. Mein had paid $24 a yard. She also gave me a portion of a black-splangled lace blouse from a dress that was worth about $500. It was funny the way that dress was distributed. One sleeve was being worn as a hat crown by Mrs. Howlett, wife of a policeman. I do not think Mrs. Mein has the dress all collected yet. I went with her to the Howlett residence and she sent me in to ask for the property. Mrs. Howlett was inclined to be very rude, but Mrs. Mein came right in from the carriage and said, 'claim this down pillow and this lace as my property. It was stolen from me.'

"I have orders to attend to this matter and I shall take it to the City Hall," said Policeman Howlett, grabbing the goods."

"Both girls were in the office of Chief Hodgkins," said Mrs. Mein last night. "And the chief questioned them. 'Clara Anderson told him where many of my things could be found. In spite of my request that he recover these things and place them in the girls' hands, he refused to do so. I do not understand his actions at all, but I do think that he is trying to shield friends of his. The wife of Policeman Howlett had some of my valuable jet lace, which she finally returned to me, all cut to pieces. I was visited by an attorney who wanted me to allow the matter to drop. He wanted to know how much money I would take to 'keep quiet.' I do not want any money, of course, and I showed the attorney my door. Who sent him I do not know, but I left had some of my valuable jet lace, which she finally returned to me, all cut to pieces. I was visited by an attorney who wanted me to allow the matter to drop. ## Political Effect of the Celtic Revival

The San Francisco Leader, which is as Irish in sentiment and feeling as a jaunting car, speaks of "Irish Irelanders." The term is new but expressive. There are a good many Irish who are Englanders in sentiment. Their origin is due to a preferred hereditary and official class, and also to unhappy religious differences. Of late, however, the Protestant Scotch Irish of the "Black North" are becoming what the Leader calls "Irish Irelanders"—that is, they are ceasing to take their politics at the sacrament, but are looking at economic questions from a non-sectarian standpoint. They are still Protestants in religion, but they are Irishmen in sentiment, and view public matters from an Irish viewpoint.

In spite of the efforts of the Loyal Orange Order, the Protestants of Ulster are coming more into political accord with their Catholic brethren of the South. Even the Orange organization is beginning to be leavened by a broader national and less factional spirit. Oddly enough, the Celtic revival, which is sentimental rather than political, has had a strong influence in soothing the religious passions which have rent and cursed Ireland in the past. Many of the leaders in the revival are Protestants, and some even are of Saxon descent, in part at least. The feeling of race kinship is being renewed, and the congenial study of the history, literature, traditions and ancient glories of Ireland, in all of which the Scottish people are associated, has aroused the emotional sympathies of the Celts in all parts of the United Kingdom.

Scottish legends and traditional heroes are interwoven with Irish history and tradition. The descendants of the Scots, who settled in Ulster and gave that ancient kingdom the rough dialect, canyness and dour persistency of the Western Highlands, are having recalled to them through the medium of their ancient tongue that they are of the same blood as the Irish of Connaught and Munster, that their ancestors fought and drank with the ancestors of the modern Irish, courted each others' daughters and sisters, worshiped at the same shrines with the same rites, and together and separately felt the heavy hand of the Teuton invader from over sea, whether Saxon or Dane. They recall with sentiments akin to grief the fact that the Teuton now dominates in the British Isles, where once the Celts reigned supreme, a pure democracy ruled by tribal chiefs, from and to John O'Grada's, in Britain, and from the Cove of Cork to the Giant's Causeway, in Ireland.

The Scots see, as the Irish do, Sassenach lords sitting in the halls of their ancient chiefs, whose landless descendants are either making their homes in distant land, or are reduced to peasant tenants of an alien aristocracy. The Celtic revival has given a keen edge to the fact that the Saxon has imposed his laws and his dominion over the Gael because the Gael persisted in splitting into factions, which fought each other to the death and allowed the stranger to come in and conquer. Thus sentiment, reviving blood brotherhood and race aspiration, has promoted a study that inculcates the wisdom of unity, teaches the lesson that division and contention invariably produce weakness and retard development.

No people are so easily touched by sentiment as the Celts. In the saturnine Scottish Highlander runs the same vein of poetry and pathos so prominent in the more mercurial Milesian; both have a passionate love of native land; both have souls which give ear to the voices of the wild winds, and both have the same feeling of clan kinship. Both are prone to place loyalty to an idea, a sentiment, a personal attachment above cold principle.

For centuries the Scots of Ulster have, impelled by religious prejudice and internecine conflict, have felt like a garrison in a conquered land. Race ties are beginning to reassert themselves with an imperious longing. They are realizing forcibly, in meeting on common ground with their Irish kindred, for study of the ancient speech, history and literature of their forbears, that they are still in their fathers' house, that Ireland is only a portion of the great Celtic domain. As the spirit of race kinship revives, religious antipathies soften and the asperities of partisan politics depart.

That is why the Protestants of Ulster are looking at legislation affecting Ireland not as alien and Orangemen but as Irishmen. While remaining Scotch-Irishmen in lineage, they are becoming "Irish Irelanders," since the welfare of the land in which they have fixed their habitation is a concern which enters into their daily lives and fortunes.

Our religious contemporary, The Pacific, takes a day off from steady boosting of Senator Bard's candidacy for re-election to laud Judge Brewer's recent denunciation of the Chinese Exclusion Act as "barbarism." The Pacific warmly endorses Judge Brewer's ideas on the subject of Chinese immigration. It would be interesting to know if Senator Bard endorses the views of The Pacific on this subject.

The discussion about the character of Belasco's play, "Du Barry," is a great cackle over a very small egg. The play is not immoral nor is it calculated to promote licentiousness. As a drama its chief faults are an anti-climax and its palpable misrepresentation of the character of Madame Du Barry. She was a vulgar strumpet whose buxom charms and virago temper gave her complete mastery of the mind of the worn-out old voluptuary who sat on the throne of France. She was unchaste before she encountered the King and her life was devoid of romance. She was fifty years old when she was carted to the guillotine in response to the demand of the furious rabble of Paris. Her execution was a bit of cruel injustice, but when one reflects on the untold misery her extravagance and foolish vanity caused one has little pity to waste on a creature of her stamp. Mrs. Carter plays the part indifferently well. She is not a great actress, and she is not at her best in this play, which is rather poor stuff from an artistic point of view.

Senator Fairbanks is outclassed by Henry Cassaway Davis in some respects at least. He cannot be accused of desiring to marry, at the age of four-score, an old sweetheart of seventy.

Japan's Weak Spot Touched

The exporting and shipping interests of San Francisco are being greatly disturbed by the war in the Orient. Trade relations with Japan are being sadly deranged by the sea raids of the Vladivostok squadron, which is cutting off Japan's supplies from the United States. To prevent the seizure of their ships and the interruption of their traffic with Chinese ports, the Pacific Mail Steamship Company managers have given notice that they will take no more consignments of breadstuffs and general merchandise for Japanese ports. This will be embarrassing to the Japanese as well as to the merchants of San Francisco. The Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company has not yet given notice to the same effect, though it may be expected to do so, as it is closely affiliated with the Harriman syndicate. However, the O. & O. steamers fly the British flag, and it is possible that they may continue to run the gauntlet of the Russian cruisers. Unless the Japanese fleet can stop the depredations of the Vladivostok squadron, their armies in the field are likely to feel the pinch of privation. All the large ports on this side the Pacific will experience a trade depression as a consequence of being cut off from commercial intercourse with Japan. The early fall of Port Arthur would relieve the blockading fleet and permit it to speedily bottle up the Skrydloff squadron in Vladivostok; but the chances are that Port Arthur will hold out for weeks to come, for it is naturally strong, is heavily garrisoned, well-provisioned and scientifically fortified. Under the circumstances the Vladivostok squadron is a menace altogether out of proportion to its strength or the actual damage it does.

The Land Fraud Cases

The discharge of John A. Benson by Circuit Judge Lacombe of New York, if sustained by the higher court, seems to pull down the government cases against Hyde and Dimond as well. When the facts of the case come to be understood Judge Lacombe's ruling will occasion no surprise.

Briefly, Benson, Hyde, Dimond et al were charged with obtaining title to school lands by purchase through dummies or fictitious persons which they subsequently exchanged for other government lands. These school lands have been granted to the States by act of Congress, hence taking them up by irregular methods is not an offense against the United States. The States owning the lands will make no complaint because they have been paid in full for them. Besides, a great part of the school lands so taken up were rocky, barren stretches in the high mountains wholly worthless for any ordinary purpose, and the States were therefore glad to sell them and get the money.

Why did the speculators purchase these worthless lands? It may be asked. Simply to exchange them for good lands in other sections of the public domain. The rocky, arid tracts in the mountains taken up by irregular methods were situated within the limits of government parks. Congress provided that all locators of lands within the limits of national reservations, where location was made prior to the setting aside of such reservations, were entitled to locate lands on any other part of the public domain in lieu of the lands sequestered for park purposes. The speculators, it seems, had advance information in regard to the territories to be reserved for park purposes and bought up the school lands therein. These they subsequently exchanged in a perfectly regular and legitimate way for other valuable public lands, which they had doubtless already in view. Thus they have avoided violating the criminal laws of the United States. At the same time the frauds practiced have actually redounded to the benefit of the States.

The fault of it all apparently lies with those in charge of the United States Land Office at the time, for the whole business carries an appearance of collusion. Hon. Binger Herman of Oregon was then Commissioner of the Land Office, and it is significant that as soon as an investigation into the affairs of his bureau was begun his resignation was demanded. There appears to be no actual proof of collusion but circumstances abundantly justify the conclusion that there was.

Business becomes more brisk as Democratic chances of winning the election become more remote. This is a jolting hint to the voter who reasons from cause to effect.

Straw votes taken in the business districts in New York City do not bear out the claims of Judge Parker's popularity among business men. On the contrary, the Stock Exchange and in the wholesale dry goods houses, sentiment strongly inclines to Roosevelt. And it must be remembered that New York is an intensely Democratic city. If the straw votes thus far taken are an indication of public sentiment in the metropolis, the Democratic ticket will be beaten out of sight in the Empire State.

OXNARD TO MAKE HOT FIGHT.

SMILING AND UNDAIMAYED, HE MAPS OUT HIS PLANS TO WIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 1.—Henry T. Oxnard has come to town, smiling and undaunted, as the Examiner puts it. The monarch continues: "The loss of the fight in Ventura has not put a crimp in his urbanity. The fact that he hasn't yet picked up a single legislator in the South seems to sit lightly upon him. The knowledge that the so-called organization—the Republican machine—has eliminated him from its calculations has left no wrinkle on his placid brow.

"The man of the sugar barrel is evidently a fighter who doesn't know when he is licked. He will not cry 'enough.' He is up to take more punishment. Like the scrapper who has been given a hard walling of two Oxnard smiles and puts on his best front of confidence that all will be well in the end. Asked what he had to say for publication on this, he declared himself.

"I only want to say that I am in this fight as a candidate for United States Senator, and that I will remain in the fight until the next United States Senator is elected. I am the candidate of no faction, but want to submit my candidacy to all the people."

"What about this published story that you have discharged George F. Hutton and substituted Walter Bacon and H. Clay Chapman of Los Angeles as your managers?"

"I want to say that there is not a word of truth in it. I wonder where anybody could have got hold of such a ridiculous story. They must have been greatly in need of something to write about."

"As Oxnard was at lunch with Hutton at the time and as he went off to Hutton's office for a consultation, immediately after lunch it was evident enough that Hutton still has charge of his campaign. Postmaster Arthur Fisk made up the trio at luncheon, but his being at the table had no special political significance."

COMPROMISE IN VENTURA.

VENTURA, August 1.—The outcome of the County convention was harmonious pursuant to a compromise by which Oxnard is to get Perkins vote in reversion. Major Driffl withdrew as a candidate and asked that Colonel Perkins be nominated unanimously. Resolutions were adopted endorsing Perkins' candidacy, but Perkins was not instructed for him. When Colonel Perkins issued a statement to the effect that he would vote for Oxnard in case he became convinced that he had no chance of election cast on the troubled water and caused all thoughts of a contest in the convention to be dropped. Smith of Kern gets the delegates to the Congressional convention.

PARKER'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE

Democratic Candidate Busy Formulating Statement of His Position.

ESOPUS N. Y. August 1.—The end of July brings Judge Parker within ten days of his official induction. He has discouraged callers between now and the time the notification committee will reach Rosemont. The day intervening he will be wholly in revising his letter of acceptance. The draft of it has been finished. He will begin going over it tomorrow and hopes to have the document ready to hand to his biographer by Saturday of this week.

There is nothing in the program to interfere with his work, no visiting delegations scheduled, no company, no committee that will encroach upon his time. By Saturday, too, it is believed he will have sent in his resignation as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, or, if he does not resign he will have notified the court of his refusal to do so and his reasons therefor.

It is said here that the following questions will be accentuated by the Democratic candidate:

First—Money, an elaboration of his telegram to Sheehan. Second—Trusts and the tariff. On the former, his friends say, he is soundly Democratic, while on the latter he favors a reduction for the benefit of the masses. Third—The right of the South to settle the race question without interference.

Fourth—A strong protest against the holding of colonies against the Constitution.

Senator Joseph Bailey of Texas, whom Judge Parker regards as the best equipped constitutional lawyer in the country, John Sharp Williams and Grover Cleveland will be asked to read the document before Judge Parker delivers it. A ready a long letter has been sent to Mr. Cleveland. But whether that is for advice, or was on another subject, is not known to the outside world.

BURNS WOMAN'S CLOTHES.

IN A JEALOUS RAGE JOHN SCOTT WRECKED MRS. LARSEN'S HOME.

While suffering from jealousy and an overdose of liquor, John Scott, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company, last night destroyed several hundred dollars' worth of big-brace fine dresses and millinery at the home of Mrs. E. Larson, 113 Sixth street. Scott had full swing to do as he pleased for half an hour. The traditional bill in the China shop caused no greater wrath than did the enraged and malicious man. Finally Howard Larson, an eleven-year-old son of the woman whose home was being turned topsy-turvy discovered what Scott had done and ran for a policeman. Policemen McSorley and Sherry responded. When they arrived they found the room littered with debris, odds and ends of millinery, cut clothing, glassware and other household effects. In the kitchen stove were the smoldering remains of silk dresses and lingerie that Scott had destroyed by setting them afire after saturating the garments with kerosene.

And of his vandalism Scott said: "I paid for this stuff and I guess I can do what I like with it. I spent $2600 on that woman's clothing. Scott when he was arrested, and this stuff is where some of my money went."

CARGO OF ORE.

The Pacific Mail steamer Curacao, plying between San Francisco and Mexico, arrived at the Adams Wharf, foot of Jackson street, at 3 o'clock this morning. She had a cargo consisting of 2000 tons of ore, most of which was concentrates. The ore is to be taken to the Pacific Coast Sampling Works.

GRADING FOR NEW CAR LINE.

ENERGETIC WORK TO BE DONE ON ROAD WHICH OPENS UP FINE COUNTRY.

The construction of the Webster Street and Park Railway began this morning and every effort will be made, both by the owners of the road and the contractors who have the work in hand, to have the line completed by the middle of October.

BIG CONTRACT.
The E. B. & A. L. Stone Supply Company has contracted to remove over 45,000 cubic yards of earth within the next thirty days. In order to do this, it has been necessary for them to employ a large force of men and teams. They will also use an immense steam shovel, which has been moved from the Southern Pacific depot to Adams' Point by the means of portable tracks. Several pieces of low ground will be filled up with this earth.

OPENS UP NEW COUNTRY.

When this road is finally ready for operation, it will be the only electric road in the city of Oakland which is not owned and operated by the Oakland Transit Consolidated and will give excellent service and open up fine idle property. The following is the route which the new road will take: Beginning at Fourteenth street and Broadway, running on Fourteenth street to Webster, on Webster to Boulevard terrace and along the terrace to the Adams' Point property, through which a street 110 feet wide is to be cut. It is the intention of the company to have the street made wide enough so that traffic will not be impeded on either side of the rails, which will be placed directly in the middle of the street.

DIRECTION.

The street will begin at a point some little distance below the Piedmont power-house, and run almost in a straight line across the Adams' property, leaving south of the street something over sixty acres of land, which a few years ago was offered to the city for park purposes. The price asked at that time was $4000 per acre but the proposition, when put to a vote, was lost by a few votes. Since then the property has materially advanced in price and is now to be cut up and sold in lots. In fact, the purpose of the new road is largely to make the property accessible to the business center of the city.

The contracts for laying ties and rails have already been given out, so that no time will be lost in putting in the railroad as soon as the street work permits of it.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

The terminus of the railroad for the present will be at Pleasant valley but if in the coming bond election, the city sees fit to purchase the Sather tract and convert the property into a park, the company will extend the road as far as the entrance to the park.

When the plans of the road were first drawn up it was the intention of the company to run the road up Pleasant valley and from there to the center of the city, where it would have its terminus. The Oakland Transit, however, promised to recognize transfers from that road if they would abandon that route and operate their road along its present route. The new company finally adopted this plan.

MAN FROM MEXICO AT LIBERTY.

EXCELLENT COMEDY WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED ALL WEEK.

This evening, the attraction at Ye Liberty Theater will be that sterling comedy, "The Man from Mexico."

This piece will be cast to the full strength of the celebrated stock company at this theater. In it, every member of the organization will find a congenial character, and the representation will be given in a masterly manner. There is no doubt that the people who attend this week will be gratified and entertained to the utmost.

"The Man from Mexico" is really one of the funniest plays on the road. It has credited to it more laughs a minute than any other piece that has been presented here for years. It was played all over the country, and so successful was it that regret was generally expressed whenever it was withdrawn from the stage.

The desire to see the play, therefore, together with the excellent cast that has been given it will insure large and appreciative audiences every night at "Ye Liberty" Theater.

For tomorrow night, 700 seats in the lower floor of Ye Liberty Theater have been secured by Alameda Parish, Native Sons of the Golden West. The returns for these seats will be used to defray the expenses of a picnic at Sacramento for September, 1905.

PEW-RENT SYSTEM ABANDONED.

COLLECTIONS AND PLEDGES TAKE ITS PLACE IN THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, the renting of pews has been discontinued. Henceforth, the only sources of revenue will be weekly pledges and plate collections.

Settling will still be assigned to families and individuals, but no new rentals will be charged after the beginning of the fiscal year, September 1st. This action was unanimously taken after having given the pew-renting system a thorough trial.

Damaged and Chipped Plates, 10c and 20c per dozen at clean-up sale, at H. Schellhaas.

GRADING FOR NEW CAR LINE.

ENERGETIC WORK TO BE DONE ON ROAD WHICH OPENS UP FINE COUNTRY.

The construction of the Webster Street and Park Railway began this morning and every effort will be made, both by the owners of the road and the contractors who have the work in hand, to have the line completed by the middle of October.

BIG CONTRACT.
The E. B. & A. L. Stone Supply Company has contracted to remove over 45,000 cubic yards of earth within the next thirty days. In order to do this, it has been necessary for them to employ a large force of men and teams. They will also use an immense steam shovel, which has been moved from the Southern Pacific depot to Adams' Point by the means of portable tracks. Several pieces of low ground will be filled up with this earth.

OPENS UP NEW COUNTRY.

When this road is finally ready for operation, it will be the only electric road in the city of Oakland which is not owned and operated by the Oakland Transit Consolidated and will give excellent service and open up fine idle property. The following is the route which the new road will take: Beginning at Fourteenth street and Broadway, running on Fourteenth street to Webster, on Webster to Boulevard terrace and along the terrace to the Adams' Point property, through which a street 110 feet wide is to be cut. It is the intention of the company to have the street made wide enough so that traffic will not be impeded on either side of the rails, which will be placed directly in the middle of the street.

DIRECTION.

The street will begin at a point some little distance below the Piedmont power-house, and run almost in a straight line across the Adams' property, leaving south of the street something over sixty acres of land, which a few years ago was offered to the city for park purposes. The price asked at that time was $4000 per acre but the proposition, when put to a vote, was lost by a few votes. Since then the property has materially advanced in price and is now to be cut up and sold in lots. In fact, the purpose of the new road is largely to make the property accessible to the business center of the city.

The contracts for laying ties and rails have already been given out, so that no time will be lost in putting in the railroad as soon as the street work permits of it.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

BURGLAR STUDENT CANNOT BE FOUND.

E. A. Sargent, College Graduate, Had His House Stuffed Full of Plunder.

BERKELEY, August 1.—In a police raid upon the house of E. A. Sargent, pseudonym carpenter, at 1825 Leroy avenue, the local officers, armed with a search warrant, found property stolen from houses in different parts of this city for which they have been searching for over a week.

Sargent himself was at work in his yard when the officers entered. No attempt was made to hold him and, when the booty was discovered, he had easily made his escape.

EVENTS IN COLLEGE TOWN SOCIAL REALMS.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Carnival that has just been received from Chillicothe, Mo., bring the news of the wedding of Miss Edith Stiles, a former society favorite of the college town, and R. Clay Roswell, a prominent ranch owner and business man of Kansas. The young couple are now on an extensive wedding tour of the East, and at the conclusion of their honeymoon will make their residence at Laramie, Wyo., where the groom has extensive holdings.

Mrs. Roswell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Stiles, formerly prominent residents of Berkeley, who are now making their home in Middletown, Lake county. The bride met her husband while on a securing tour in Illinois and Kansas and as their acquaintance ripened into a stronger friendship she decided to accept the offer to make her home in the East.

INFORMAL TEA.

Last week Mrs. Bernard Ransome gave a most informal little four o'clock tea in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. I. A. Bosne, nee Katherine Ransome, who is here for a few days on a honeymoon.

was finally located in North Berkeley, where he lived alone with his mother. Sargent had a way that was all his own. It was so novel that even the men who were set to watch him could not catch him in the act. His scheme consisted in riding off on a bicycle when he quit work in the afternoon and then, after circling around the block a few times to deceive his fellow workmen, return and help himself to all the good things in sight.

SARGENT DISAPPEARS.
While the search was going on Sargent disappeared. Hatless and coatless he had run for cover. Neighbors saw him making for the hills. He left behind him a mess of mother, with whom he made his home. She sought to help her son out of his trouble by offering to restore all the stolen goods, but this offer will not save the son if he is caught. Dallerup's property many things known to have belonged to other people were found in Sargent's place. Some of these were discovered beneath a pile of hay in the barn. What Sargent wanted with many of the things is a mystery, as they were such as could not be sold.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ross, of course, have scores of friends here, or both have made this side of the bay their home. Mrs. Ross is a sister of Bernard Ransome, and Mr. Ross, though his home was not here, was a student at Berkeley for several years and a member of the Phi Kappa fraternity. He is very wealthy and their home is in New York, where he has large business interests.

SORORITY DELEGATES.
Miss Elizabeth Gray, Marian Morrow and Miss L. A. Ruch have been chosen delegates to the national convention of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, to be held in Columbus, O. The trio is to leave Berkeley this month.

THE WILSONS IN GERMANY.
Mrs. Frank Wilson writes from Frankfurt-on-the-Main that she is rapidly recovering from the indisposition that brought her to take a change of climate. Mr. Wilson and Miss Wilson, who have been in Germany for some time, are now in Munich.

PROF. MAGEE RETURNS.
Professor and Mrs. Walter Magee of the University of California have returned home from a few pleasant weeks in Mendocino county.

TO WINTER IN BERKELEY.
Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Van Wyck Jr., who have been in Berkeley for the past six or eight months have about decided to remain here during the winter.

STUDENT AIDS RETURNS TO HIS WORK AMONG INDIANS.

W. J. SHAW WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER TO PROFESSOR GEORGE C. DAVIDSON.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Professor Geo. Davidson of the geographical department of the State University, has just received a letter from William J. Shaw, a graduate of the University with the class of 1903, who is now working for the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company at the Punta Gorda quarry, 30 miles from Manila, which throws much light upon the Philippine situation. He says in part:

"Our quarry business is extending rapidly; we ship to the Manila procurer a bulkhead from one thousand to fifteen hundred tons of stone daily. In handling the stone, we employ at this end a crew of five hundred natives and forty American foremen. Most of the Americans are engineers or foremen. You see a great deal of dissection in the papers no doubt on the problem of stirring native labor to develop the resources of the islands. The great of the newspaper articles seems to be 'the natives won't work.' The people that write such trash don't know whereof they write. They are not people who have handled native labor and it they have handled native labor they have made the natives and blamed the same on the poor natives."

MISS WELDON SUCCEEDS MISS MARY L. BISBEE.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Elise Weldon, who has succeeded Miss Mary Bisbee as proprietress of the photographic studio at 2151 Center street is making a decided success in her chosen profession. Besides having a large clientele among the people of the city she is doing an immense amount of work for the students at the summer session of the University.

Miss Weldon's studio is faultless in its appointments and some of the finest portraiture on the coast is to be found there.

A. G. KEANE TO EDIT THE COLLEGE WEEKLY.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Augustin Carter Keane will be the editor and William Murray the business manager of the Oakland Tribune, the College Weekly, during the coming term. The first issue will come out on the first day of college.

REV. GEORGE E. SWAN, FORMER PASTOR OF ST. MARK'S CHURCH OF BERKELEY, WHO IS NOW A MISSIONARY AMONG THE MODOC INDIANS.

BERKELEY, August 1.—After temporarily taking charge of a pastorate at Sacramento, Rev. George E. Swan, former pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church in Berkeley, has returned to Modoc county to resume his missionary work among the Indians of that section. Rev. Swan's field of work covers a wide range of territory but he makes his headquarters at Alpaugh. Energetically in disposition and straightforward, Rev. Swan is making a great success of his latest work.

SIERRA CLUB PARTY BACK FROM TRIP.

Unusually Interesting Trip is Taken By the Members of the Famous Mountain Climbing Aggregation.

BERKELEY, August 1.—The Sierra Club, a popular organization of University professors, graduates, students and business men, returned yesterday morning to their homes 125 strong, after having spent the past six weeks in climbing the high Sierras. The club reached the Oakland mole at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, having come straight through from Tuolumne county in a special train of five Pullmans and a baggage car.

This year's outing proved one of the most successful ever given by the club, no accidents marred the enjoyment of the grandeur of the California Alps. No one fell sick during the tramping and all returned healthier looking, browned up and frocked. During the six weeks they were away, the members of the club tramped over 300 miles in the high mountains around Tuolumne Meadows, where the central camp was situated.

KNAPSACK TRIPS.

All the trips taken out from the central camp were knapsack trips, no pack animals being allowed to be taken along. Each one carried his bedding and his provisions on his back. While many of the trips were taken by small parties of two or three, others were taken by a few days, others were out for several days at a time. Nearly all the members of the club made ascents of Mount Lyell, Mount Dana, Mount Ritter and Mount Hoffman, all above the 10,000 mark. Several times the club members were forced to sleep on the ground covered with first at an altitude of 10,000 feet, but owing to the sleeping bags they suffered very little from the cold.

IN TREACHEROUS COUNTRY.

One of the most fatiguing and dangerous trips made by members of the club was the descent of the Sierras from the top of Mount Lyell, which is known as the widest and most treacherous canyon of the Sierras. Fourteen miles of this city took the trip, lasting four days, under the direction of Mr. Parsons, one of the head men of the club. One day, on a three miles were made by the party, but owing to the difficulty of getting through the thick groves of manzanita and over the huge boulders, as high as a house, that hid the stream from sight.

CAMP IS BROKEN.

The club broke camp Saturday and tramped to a logging camp, where they boarded a logging train which carried them into the city of Tuolumne, arriving Saturday evening. A royal reception and had been planned for them and they found themselves greeted by a brass band upon their arrival. The owners of "Turnback Inn" threw the entire house open to them and while they ate supper, the band played selections. At 8 o'clock they took the special train for San Francisco, arriving there yesterday morning.

Among the Berkeley members of the Sierra Club who returned yesterday were Professor A. C. Lawson of the State University, Professor B. D. Bradley of the Pacific Theological Seminary, Professor Bradley of the State University and his two daughters, Herbert Mackie, A. Morgan, Professor of the State University, Duncan McDuffie, Ray Brown, Wight Lasell, Miss Cora Lasell, Miss Tallulah Le Conte and the Misses Ethel and Mary Ratcliffe.

PERSONAL MENTION ABOUT BERKELEYANS.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Considerable interest is being taken in the West End in the lay excursion to be given by the Beacon and Posen air companies and Court Berkeley, American Order of Foresters, is increasing in value and is being advertised and all points of interest about the bay will be visited. The steamer "Hill" leaves the Berkeley wharf at 9 o'clock in the morning and will return at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The College City band will accompany the excursion and will stop at El Campo three hours for lunch.

The money for the improvement was appropriated some time ago by the Regents, soon after the hall was pronounced to be unsafe in its present condition.

THE MODERN WAY

To cure a weak stomach is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the very first symptom. It does a way with starting and dieting yourself because it puts the stomach in proper condition to digest the food. In this way it cures indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, heartburn, insomnia, headache, cramps or diarrhoea. Nervous and sickly women also find the Bitters unequalled as a regulator and tonic. We urge a fair trial.

MAY THROW LIGHT ON MURDER MYSTERY.

BERKELEY, August 1.—Miss L. D. McDowell, who has just come from the Klondike, is to throw light upon the mysterious death of Captain Thomas Howard, whose body was found with a bullet hole in the head, back of a Berkeley barn about a year ago.

The coroner's jury in the case rendered a verdict of "death by suicide," but there was dissatisfaction on the part of relatives and others with this verdict. They suspected murder.

It was brought out at the inquest that Captain Howard, who had recently come from the Klondike, was not any other Klondike man, Captain Norwood, the day before his death.

Third Captain Norwood could not be found. Mrs. McConnell, who as just come down from the north, where she and her husband managed a hotel at Dawson, says that she knew both Howard and Norwood.

She says she saw a Canadian representative of the Canadian government sought to procure from him. Howard was told that he was not any other Klondike man, Captain Norwood, the day before his death.

The next thing I know," said Mrs. McConnell, "Captain Howard, Norwood and a strange man took a trip to the Indian river territory where Captain Howard was to point out the boundary lines of his concession. The trip takes a fortnight but Captain Howard was back in four days. He came to my hotel, I said to him, 'What Captain, I thought you had gone to the Indian river. He replied, 'No, I got scared. I was afraid I might be murdered. I've asked them repeatedly to pay me my money or return the deeds but they won't do either. So I'm scared.'"

"Captain Howard went to San Francisco the next day, but I know whether or Norwood accompanied him."

Mrs. McConnell declares that she intends to find James P. Ryan and others who know Captain Howard and who gave testimony at the inquest and inform them of her knowledge of the case.

RHEUMATISM JOINTS AND MUSCLES SWOLLEN AND STIFF

A disease so painful and far-reaching in its effects upon the human system as Rheumatism must have a deep and well-laid foundation. It originates and develops in the blood, and, like other diseases of the blood, is frequently inherited. The poisonous acids with which the blood is charged circulate through the system, breaking down the health, irritating the nerves, settling in joints and muscles, and causing the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to Rheumatism. Unless the blood is purified, joints and muscles become coated with the acid matter and are rendered stiff and sore, and the nerves completely wrecked. Rheumatism, being a constitutional blood disease, requires internal treatment. Liniments, plasters and such things as are applied outwardly, give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the recognized greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, and in no disease does it act so promptly and beneficially as Rheumatism, neutralizing the acids and restoring the blood to a pure, healthy condition and invigorating and turning up the nerves and all parts of the system. It is guaranteed strictly vegetable. Write us should you desire medical advice, which will cost you nothing.

I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicine every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I got off their medicine and began the use of S. S. S. My knees and elbow joints were swollen and painful, and I could not close them when opened. I was getting discouraged when I began S. S. S. but I saw it was helping me, continued, and today I am sound and well man.

STUDIED EASTERN WHARVES.

COMMISSION SPEAR OF HARBOR CENT TRIP.

Charles H. Spear, Berkeley, president of the Harbor Commission of San Francisco, has returned from a trip to the East, during which he made a study of the wharves of the large cities of that section and the manner in which they are conducted. In speaking on the subject, Mr. Spear said:

"Our wharves are as large and commodious, and as convenient to shipping, as those of the big Eastern ports," said the president. "I found, too, on comparing rents and taxes—that is, the raising of revenue used directly for harbor improvements—that we have done as much here as there. As to the handling of freight on the wharves, I found that the Eastern people do not have the tedious and laborious work that we have here. They use light trucks and single teams are commonly used, instead of the big four-horse trucks commonly in use here, and which take up room and move more slowly than lighter outfits. Freight in the East is hurried off the wharves to warehouses."

CONSTRUCTION.
"Concerning wharf construction, the Eastern concrete piers now common here are superior to anything in the East. There are, however, many solid stone wharves in the East. But in the building of foundations, we are ahead. The Eastern people do not have the tedious and laborious work that we have here. They use light trucks and single teams are commonly used, instead of the big four-horse trucks commonly in use here, and which take up room and move more slowly than lighter outfits. Freight in the East is hurried off the wharves to warehouses."

UNION MEN GO BACK TO WORK.
CHICAGO, August 1.—The position of the strikers' leaders who struck the stock yards in sympathy with the packing-house employees and afterwards returned to their duties, pending stock for the packing companies, is a subject of much interest. It is reported that they stand ready to strike again if it appears necessary.

A report that the insurance underwriters had issued an order mandating strikes on packing establishments on account of the strike and because of the housing of so many men in the buildings has been positively denied by the insurance companies' representatives.

Packing house managers are predicting that the next few hours will witness important developments in the breaking up of the strike. Strong forces, it is said, have been made by representatives of the packers to the labor deserters from the ranks of the strikers and the claim is made that the efforts are meeting with much success.

BRUTAL BEATING OF JAPANESE.

Early yesterday morning, G. Sugawara, a Japanese, residing at 125 Filbert street in this city, appeared at the police station and complained that he had been severely beaten by four roughs. His bruised and battered condition was sufficient evidence that he was telling the truth. Sugawara says that he was on his way home when one of the toughs stepped up to him and asked him for a match. The Japanese produced the desired article, and was about to move on when the young man, evidently angered because the Japanese had given him only one match, struck the Japanese a blow which felled him to the ground. The other hooligans then took a hand in the affair, kicking and striking the Japanese until he lost consciousness, and then leaving him to recover as best he might. As soon as he was able to stand, Sugawara walked to the police station and told his story. Sugawara was then taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his injuries were treated by Steward Borchers. Sugawara is a student and is 31 years of age.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON MEN AND THINGS IN "ATHENS OF THE PACIFIC."

An effort is being made by the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland to induce the Southern Pacific Company to establish an all-night service between Oakland and San Francisco. Then again, the old excuse of "business hours" will have no more place in the city, and some new excuse will be invented.—Washington Press.

This was promptly held to be "unconstitutional," and the man whose desire to uplift the Oaklanders was greater than his knowledge of their peculiar laws and institutions was sent to jail for the night.—San Francisco Star.

WRECKED SAILORS ARE RESCUED.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., August 1.—On board the Portuguese sloop Comandante, which has arrived from Lisbon, were Captain Joseph C. and the three mates of the whaling bark President, which was wrecked on the west coast of Africa on May 8.

The President struck at midnight on the rocks of the Point of Alexandria, according to the story told by Second Mate Barney.

After one boat had been smashed and another reached shore, according to Mate Barney's tale there were ten men left on the sinking President without another boat to leave in. These men finally embarked on a raft on which they floated a boat for six hours before those who had previously been rescued were able to reach them. A cask of bread came ashore and a cask of canned goods, so there was plenty of food, but the party was entirely out of water.

When the men came ashore from Port Alexandria and walked along the beach to that place which they reached after three days' intense suffering. Being without shoes, their feet were cut by the shells on the beach and were blistered by the heat of the sand. One man was bitten by a poisonous eel and died as the result of the wound.

The captain's wife was one of the party.

PHENOMENON ON DELAWARE.

PHILADELPHIA, August 1.—The British ship Mohican, while making for the Delaware breakwater, encountered a strange phenomenon. A cloud of phosphoric appearance enveloped the vessel, magnifying everything on board. Captain Urquhart, in command, and crew had a very exciting time.

"When the sailors saw it," said the captain, "they rushed along the deck in consternation. I looked at the needle and it was flying around like an electric fan. I ordered several of the crew to move some iron chains that were lying on the deck, thinking to distract their attention. The sailors could not budge the chains, although they did not weigh more than seventy-five pounds each."

"Everything was magnified, and chains, belts, spikes and wires were as light on the deck as if they had been riveted there. The cloud was so dense that it was impossible for the vessel to proceed. I could not see beyond the decks. It appeared as if the whole world was in a glow of glowing fire. The sailors fell on the decks and prayed. Suddenly the cloud began to lift. The phosphorescent glow on the ship and the cloud began to fade. A few minutes the cloud passed over the vessel and we saw it moving off over the sea."

WHISKEY GOES UP IN SMOKE.

CONFLAGRATION COSTS LIQUOR FIRM $100,000 IN A SHORT TIME.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 1.—Fire destroyed a stock of liquors worth $100,000 between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, belonging to the Hubbert Mercantile Company, 213-215 Market street. The building, located in the Alameda block, was burned to the extent of $25,000. Water and smoke ruined property belonging to wholesale business houses to a total of $50,000.

It is thought the fire was due to a spark from an electric motor situated in the cellar of the Hubbert Mercantile Company's plant on business. Hubbert said last evening that it was the custom to keep an electric light burning in front of the cellar when the store was closed. His theory is that a spark from the electric motor set fire to some excelsior and that the flames swept upward through the elevator shaft communicating to the inflammable stock of liquors on the floors above.

An Arizona clerk, which is occupied by the William Clark Company, the Davis Implement Company and the Hubbert Mercantile Company, is owned by R. R. Hubbert, 213-215 Market street. The quarters of the various firms are separated by heavy fire walls. That portion of the Arizona block in which the fire broke out is owned by the owner of $50,000, the insurance on it being $12,500.

H. H. Hubbert, secretary of the Hubbert Mercantile Company, said last night that his firm carried between $20,000 and $100,000 worth of goods, all of which were destroyed. He was covered by insurance, but Mr. Hubbert did not know what company carried the policies, this matter being left to an insurance agent.

Hubbert said that the firm of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson arrived at the scene of the fire in the automobile of his friend, H. J. Lazzari, who had been picked up by John P. Merrill, vice president of the firm, on their way down town and after a quick run to the scene of the conflagration.

Mr. Hubbert stated that his firm's loss on stock of cans on the top floor of the Hubbert building would be between $200 and $10,000, fully covered by insurance. He estimated that the pipes in the cellar of the building were valued at $10,000, and the loss on them would be about 50 per cent. The cellar stock was covered by insurance.

The William Clark Company, situated at 213 to 215 Market street, had a stock of groceries in its building valued at $250,000. The damage by smoke and water to their property will amount to about $10,000.

The Hubbert Mercantile Company, 10 to 16 Main street, sustained a loss of about $10,000 by smoke and water. The Hubbert Mercantile Company, and a vast amount of water came through the roof of the former's place of business. On the top floor of the Hubbert Mercantile Company a number of machines used in printing wine and grocery labels were damaged by water and thousands of champagne corks were damaged by smoke.

A Hingham, a member of the firm, said last evening that it would be impossible to estimate the amount of their damage until today, but he thought that $10,000 would cover it. The firm carries ample insurance.

WELL KNOWN CAPTAIN RETIRES.

NEW YORK, August 1.—Captain H. St. G. Lindsay, Royal Naval Reserve, makes his last ocean voyage as commander, when the White Star liner Celtic sails on her voyage for Liverpool.

For thirty-two years Captain Lindsay has followed the sea and for twenty-two years has been in the service of the White Star Line entering as a junior officer.

Captain Lindsay has been in command of the Celtic since she first was put in commission in August, 1902. Before that he commanded the Cymric. While in command of the latter vessel he distinguished himself by descending into the hold to put out a fire which had occurred among some chemicals. Three times he was overcome by the fumes and finally was taken out unconscious. Captain Lindsay will enter mercantile life.
